SPENCER WAGNER

Spencer has been a friendly face at ERHS for all of his high school years. In class he is dedicated but not afraid to make a couple jokes to get his classmates and teachers laughing. Throughout his high school career he could be spotted on the boys varsity soccer team as well as the basketball team. In high school his favorite memory has been winning the sectional title for boys soccer in 2019 with all of his best friends. Spencer would like to thank Mrs. Larson for being a great teacher, and his best friend since 8th grade Jacob Mercado. After high school Spencer will be attending Geneseo and majoring in Communication. His best advice for the underclassmen would be to not slack off, have fun, and SHOWER! We can't wait to see what your future holds, good luck Spencer!

HANNAH GRIFFITH

Hannah has been an inspiration to everyone at ER. She was diagnosed with Hodgkins lymphoma in August before her freshman year. This did not stop her from being a three sport athlete, successful student and a very active member of our student section. She juggled treatments, practices and school all 4 years of high school and is now thankfully in remission. Hannah has participated in field hockey, basketball and track throughout high school. In field hockey she earned 2nd team All County for two years in a row as well as earning Comeback Player of the Year her junior year for her stand out field hockey play while fighting cancer. She ended her final field hockey season at ER with a sectional patch which would not have been earned without her defense. Her favorite high school memory has been attending sporting events and cheering all of her friends on. She would like to thank Mr. Bates for being a great teacher and always being very supportive of her. In college Hannah plans to major in nursing. When asked her advice for underclassmen she said, "Be in the moment because it goes by really fast." Hannah, we can't wait to see what your future holds, we know you will do amazing things!

Buffalo Bills 2020

By Isabella Alexander

The Buffalo Bills are a professional American football team based in Buffalo. Home games are played at Bills Stadium in Orchard Park, New York. They joined the National Football League (NFL) in 1970. They are the only team in the NFL that play home games in New York state. The franchise is owned by Terry and Kim Pegula who purchased the Bills after the death of original owner Ralph Wilson in 2014. Their greatest success occurred between 1990 and 1993 when they appeared in a record of four consecutive Super Bowls. Super Bowls are annual football games that culminate a season and are the conclusion of the NFL playoffs. The Bills endured the longest active playoff drought and are the only team in the AFC without a Super Bowl win.

The 2020 season is the Buffalo Bills' 61st season in the NFL. Buffalo's head coach is Sean McDermott and general manager is Brandon Beane. This year they have improved their 2019 record of 10-6 with a current record of 12-3. This year the Buffalo Bills are returning to the playoffs for the third time in four years and won the AFC East division for the first time since 1995.

The Buffalo Bills have been having an amazing season this year. Due to the pandemic and state guidelines, the Bills stadium is not open for in person attendance. Fans still cheer on their team and express their love through social media. If there was in-person attendance at home games, whenever the Bills made a touchdown a song would be played. This song is known as "Shout". This fight song is known by all Bills fans. The Bills' fanbase is known as Bills Mafia. Bills Mafia consists of diehard fans and they have crazy traditions. This family of fans from all around the world are devoted to watching the Bills, drinking beverages, smashing through tables, and giving back to the community. The Buffalo Bills' mascot is known as Billy Buffalo and the team's colors are royal blue, red, white, and navy blue.
